The committee discussed the people to recognize at future board meetings including women who went to work in support of the war effort during WW II known as "Rosie the Riveters" . The committee decided to advertise in search of these women. Also discussed were the Eagle Scouts, Minooka wrestling coach and the drivers for the VACGC.

Dan Duffy updated the committee on the relocation of the VACGC and the Kendall-Grundy Community Action offices to the Morris Technology Center. Duffy stated that after a long search, and when talking with both groups, heard no negative feedback. When asked by Iverson if they were satisfied, Superintendent Monson stated "am I ever going to be happy?" Duffy stated that the Morris Technology Center had more space than the VACGC had originally requested. Iverson said that the office fit our time line for the courthouse construction and was a justifiable cost of additional tax dollars.
